AJ FERNANDEZ SIGNATURE BLENDS are a special collection of premium cigars blended and owned by AJ Fernandez himself.

These masterfully crafted blends feature AJ Fernandez' signature and seal as a personal guarantee of his COMMITMENT TO SUPERIOR QUALITY.

The selected tobaccos, hailing primarily from Nicaragua, offer diverse and balanced experiences for cigar lovers at every stage of their journey.

OUR FACTORIES

Abdel Fernandez owns and operates two cigar factories settled in the vast and diverse growing landscape of Nicaragua. Tabacalera AJ Fernandez de Nicaragua, S.A. is located in Esteli, the heart of tobacco country, while the San Lotano factory is situated 70 km north in Totogalpa. Together these two factories handcraft 100,000 cigars per day using time-honored traditions passed to AJ from generations past.

OUR FARMS

Nicaragua's rich and fertile grounds not only produce some of the best tobacco in the world, but its regions are among the most diverse of any tobacco growing country. AJ recognized this diversity and invested throughout the country so that he may lay roots in all the major regions of Nicaragua, including Jalapa, Condega, Esteli, Pueblo Nuevo, Quilali, and the volcanic island of Ometepe. Each farm, or "finca", bears a name meaningful to AJ; San Lotano, his hometown in the Pinar del Rio region in Cuba, or La Lilia, named for his grandmother.

Passion, discipline, and a deep respect for the craft of cigar making, drive the AJ Fernandez Portfolio Collection.

AJ never stops striving to produce the highest quality cigars and offers balanced and consistent blends suitable for a range of palates.

OUR PROCESS

Harvesting: Hand-Picking and Priming

When the time comes to harvest the tobacco, each leaf is hand-picked according to priming. During this process the leaves are removed at different stages, allowing tobacco at the top a longer growing period with less competition from lower leaves for nutrients derived from the soil and stalk. The leaves at the top of the plant, getting the most sun exposure and most grow time are Ligero leaves, and depending upon the tobacco varietal, Medio Tiempo; for both of which AJ is renowned.

Curing: Natural Drying in Barns

After harvest, the tobacco is hand-strung in curing barns where the leaves start their natural process of drying, relinquishing the green hue for richer browns. The length of time tobacco requires to fully cure is based not only on the tobacco varietal, but also temperature and humidity. Curing times can be anywhere from 40-60 days, and our ventilated barns allow for air flow and temperature regulation. The curing process is art and agriculture operating harmoniously.

Fermentation: The Natural Transformation

Once the leaves reach their desired color, they are sorted, organized, and sent for fermentation. The tobacco is then arranged in pilons to begin its natural transformation, which can take anywhere from six months to two years.

Aging and Final Preparation

AJ is known for his signature fermentation process, and any blend comprised of his tobacco bears the distinct flavor that is attributed to his name. After being consistently regulated and rotated, the fermented tobacco completes its journey and gets prepared for additional aging, where it will then move to bunching, rolling, banding and boxing, passing through the countless capable hands that are instrumental in bringing a cigar from seed to smoke.

AMAR

Such as the lunar phase directly following a moon at full illumination, Amar represents reflection, growth, and gratitude, created as a ‘thank you’ to the cigar community for their unwavering support following the March 2025 factory fire.

AMAR

AMAR

Meaning “to love” in Spanish and “moon” in Arabic, Amar celebrates Abdel’s Cuban and lesser-recognized Lebanese heritage and denotes a point in his story that could only be overcome by perseverance and a dedication to his craft.

Amar is earthy, woody, and spiced with a touch of sweetness and citrus. Medium in strength, complex in character, and perfect for an everyday go-to, Amar is blended for you, with love and gratitude.
